THE W. A. McLEOD CASE

Bank of Ottawa wins a Motion for an Injunction.

Osgoode Hall, Aug. 25.—Bank of Ottawa v. McLeod.—Judgment (C.) on motion by the plaintiffs to have a certain conveyance declared void as against them, and for an account, injunction and receiver. In March, 1902, the plaintiffs issued execution against the defendant W. A. McLeod. Mc-Leod had on January 10, 1901, conveyed his lands in Rat Portage to the defendant, Mary McLeod. She mortgaged the lands for $1,008.00 on January 15, 1902. On May 1, 1902, the defendant W. A. McLeod was arrested in Winnipeg on the charge of unlawfully removing his property to defraud creditors, and when arrested $1,808.00 was found on his person and placed in the hands of the Clerk of the Peace.
The plaintiff claims that this sum consisted of the aforesaid $1,008.00, and the sum of $200 received by McLeod from the sale of certain stock. The plaintiffs desire to have it declared that the said deed by the defendant W. A. McLeod, to the defendant Mary McLeod, is fraudulent and void as against them. They desire, also, to have an account of the defendant Mary McLeod's dealings with the land, and to have it declared that the sum of $1,808.00, is the defendant W. A.
McLeod's property and liable to their claim, and they desire an injunction to prevent the defendant interfering with the said sum of $1,808.00, and to have a receiver appointed as to the money found with McLeod at the time of his arrest. Held, that an injunction should be granted restraining the defendants from interfering with the said sum of $1,808.00, although it is in custodia legis: Lloyd v. Eagle, 28 L.
J. ch. 280, and High on Injunctions, paragraph 402 et seq. Receiver also appointed in regard to $244.44, the amount remaining due to plaintiffs. F. A.
Anglin, K. C., for plaintiff. J. N.
Ewart, K. C., for defendant.

DROWNED AT CONEY ISD.

Young Man bathing at Sandy Beach sinks to rise no more.

On Wednesday afternoon, a young man named Harry Hall, of Emo, was drowned near the ferry wharf at Coney Island while bathing. From what can be gathered from eye witnesses of the tragedy, Hall was swimming about in eight feet of water when he suddenly threw up his hands and sank. There was a crowd of people at the beach, a Sunday School picnic being held at the time, but no one attempted to go to the unfortunate boy's rescue until the ferry boat came along about ten minutes after he sank, when Mr. Clifford Bruce, of the Nelson Company, dived into the water and brought up the body. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and in the meantime, Mr. Harold Nelson, began resuscitation work, using all known methods until the arrival of Dr. Hanson, who at once pronounced life extinct.

HONOLULU

Evangelist J. A. L. Romig will give his magnificent stereopticon lecture on Honolulu, the paradise of the Pacific, next Monday, Sept. 1st, at Victoria Rink.

There will be over one hundred beautiful pictures of native huts wooden and stone gods, beautiful palm avenues, lake of fire, etc., etc.

The lecture will clearly demonstrate the benefit of foreign missions by showing the condition of life under heathenism and Christianity.

The views to be given were personally collected by Mr. Romig during an eight weeks visit to Honolulu. His lecture cannot fail to interest and interest and instruct an intelligent audience. This is an opportunity of a life-time to take a trip to the centre of the great Pacific, the land of love and flowers.

Rowing Club will hold a Programme of Races on Monday.

The much talked of Autumn Regatta will take place on Monday afternoon, Labor Day when a big programme of aquatic sports will be held on the bay by the Rowing Club, when the question of the championship of Lake of the Woods will be decided by single and other crews. The prizes to be contested for will include among others, the Tom Sullivan, of London, England trophy, with a second prize donated by the well-known English sporting patron, Mr. Jas. Field, also of London. Dr. Schmitt gives prizes for the four-oared events.

The grand stand will be thrown open to the public on this occasion.

Music and Drama.

Whoever thinks a faultless piece to see Thinks what ne'er was, nor is, nor e'er shall be.

The Merchant of Venice produced in the Hilliard Opera House by the Nelson Company was one of the strongest legitimate bills ever presented to a Rat Portage audience.
To my mind the most remarkable feature of the play was the intelligent manner in which the beautiful lines of the immortal bard were spoken—not only by the leading characters, but by every member of the company. Mr.
Nelson in his portrayal of the Jew was a leaf torn out of the life and times of William Shakespeare; he was the dispelled, the "abhorred Jew," conscious of the loathing, and the contempt of his fellow-men, yet displaying the immutable traits of the Jew—cunning, spitefulness, greed, the malicious Christian to his Judaism and hate of Christ-ianity. The female characters were strong, the Portia (Miss Cornyn) was especially so in the last act; Miss Davidson played an intelligent Nerissa and no words were needed to explain why Lorenzo (Miss Scott) fell in love with the adorable Jessica (Miss Proctor).

The Nelson Company produced a rousing comedy called "A Crazy Idea" Wednesday which contains more funny situations to the square inch than anything ever seen here before. It was expected that this bill would draw a larger house than the two previous were all clever, Miss Cornyn's piano playing, Miss Scott's singing, Mr.

Blake's dancing and Mr. Yule's funny monologue.

A fair sized audience greeted the Nelson Company last night to witness the presentation of Bulwer's famous drama "Richelieu." Mr. Nelson was stronger in the piece than in any previous bill, and his work showed greater maturity and finesse, than when he was seen in the role here some years ago. His support was stronger too.
Clara Cornyn as Julie de Mortimer surprised those who had seen her in previous bills, for few indeed were prepared to see such a clever piece of emotional acting as she presented in this beautiful part.

Miss Proctor was as near perfection as it is humanly possible to get, in the role of Francois the page. I did not think there was anyone in Canada who could approach Blanche Crozier in this particular part, but since seeing Miss Proctor my opinion has changed, and Miss Crozier is debauched to make room for the clever young lady now with the Nelson Company. She seems made for the part, and she goes into it with the abandon of a born artist, who has that vital spark in her which cannot be kindled in another by the greatest master of technique, no matter how pliable the pupil.

The fiery high-strung de Mauprat of Mr. Clifford Bruce was a piece of acting which must have demonstrated the play-writer's ideal. At least the creation I saw last night was the conception one must get from reading Bulwer's great play if words mean anything.

Joseph the monk was so good, that the pendulum swung over to the mirth side once or twice too often, for the gallery to recover in time, the result being that Mr. Nelson got offended. Titters like tides and tears cannot be controlled by policemen, neither can they be interpreted as an offence against order within the meaning of the Act. The police have no power to dictate to the multitude when they shall sigh or smile, or weep or laugh.
Nature controls her forces herself, and the man who interferes with the beats of her hater, rails at the moon, or sweeps the tide back with a broom.
Incongruity of a funeral is funnier than the wittiest sally at a marriage feast. It may not strike everybody in the same manner but there will be one or two present who have a keener appreciation of a humorous situation than the others, and if they were to be banned the next minute they would laugh just the same.

The more profoundly solemn Joseph became during the performance of Richelieu, the more a few people—say small boys to be charitable—the gallery tittered. It annoyed Nelson, and it annoyed hundreds of others, but

The Grand Opera House was packed last night with an appreciative audience that thoroughly enjoyed an excellent production of the latest farce comedy "A Wise Member." Witty lines, humorous scenes and novel specialties combine to hold the attention of the auditor, making the entertainment unusually pleasing, and well worthy of more than passing notice. St. Louis Republic. This attraction may be seen for one performance only at Hilliard Opera House, Saturday, Sept. 6th.

Boat 2,000 Years Old.

In County Mayo, Ireland, a wood-eater, believed to be nearly 2,000 years old, was recently dug up by some laborers. The boat, beautifully carved from the trunk of a tree, is of oak, 46 feet long, and in a perfect state of preservation. So hard is the wood that the hatchets of the men scarcely left an impression. Provision will be made to receive the relic in the Dublin museum.—Pearson's Weekly.

ABOU BEN ADHEM

Abou Ben Adhem may his name be known to all men, for he was a man of peace. And saw within the moonlight in his room, Making it rich and like a day in noon. An angel writing in a book of gold, Breveting peace had made him Adhem bold. And to the Presence in the room he said, "What wisest thought!" The vision reached his head. And with a look that made of all sweet accord. Answered, "The names of those who love the Lord." "And is mine one," said Abou, "not so?" Replied the angel, Abou spoke more low; But cheerily still, and said, "I pray, then, then. Write me as one who loves his fellow-men." The angel wrote and vanished. The next night it came again with a great wakening light. And showed the names whom love of God had blessed. And lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest.

William Shakespeare was the disappointed—the abhorred Jew—conscious of the loathing, and the contempt of his fellow-man, yet displaying the immutable traits of the Jew—cunning, spitefulness, greed, the tenacious clinging to his Judaism and hate of Christ's family. The female characters were strong, the Portia (Clara M. Cornyn) especially so in the last act. Miss Davidson played an intelligent Nerissa and no words are needed to explain why Lorenzo (Miss Scott) fell in love with the adorable Jessica (Miss Proctor).

The Nelson Company produced a roasting comedy called "A Crazy Idea" Wednesday which contains more funny situations to the square inch than anything ever seen here before. It was expected that this bill would draw a larger house than the two previous ones, but it did not, which proves Mr. Nelson's contention viz: that the people of Rat Portage like the legitimate and especially the Shakesperian drama, better than the modern farce even though it be liberally interspersed with clever specialties.

All the characters in "A Crazy Idea" did excellent work in the piece. Mr. Nelson, proving an invulnerable foil for his company's comedy work—indeed without him last night's success would have been impossible, although he himself had no opportunity to display his wonderful steller ability.

Mr. Yule was the bright star among the male members, although I think he could have made his part even funnier than he did. His talks between acts however made him a lion in the gallery, who would have kept him at the footlights when the play should have been continued.

Personally I liked Mr. Bruce's work better than that of anybody else in the company in "Crazy Idea." I never saw a more perfect makeup, nor a more complete nervous wreck.

Sam Hicks was another make-up triumph.

I hope my readers will not think me ungallant for saying that I haven't much room to spread myself on the subject of the work of the ladies. I will try and keep myself solid with Miss Proctor however by saying she was more beautiful than ever in "A Crazy Idea," though she was somewhat exasperated as Lillian Tussell. Miss Proctor redeemed herself again though as Miss Stone, and I had forgiven her completely before the curtain went down on the last act. I don't know how she could be so careless as to be such a clever Lillian Tussell for even a minute. I didn't admire her taste either in falling in love with that Siszy, oft fellow Neil Browning (Mr. Eros dant) when she was the lovely Eva Stone.

Miss Cornyn made a charming Augusta, and Miss Davidson was a whirlwind as Mrs. Davis. Mr. M. J. Kelly made a good servant, and he was highly appreciated by the gallery who were driven into repeated fits of laughter by his clever work. The specialties of the Act. The police have no power to dictate to the multitude when they shall sigh or smile, or weep or laugh. Nature controls her forces herself, and the man who interferes with the beats of her baton, rails at the moon, or sweeps the tide back with a broom. Incongruity at a funeral is funnier than the wildest sally at a marriage feast. It may not strike everybody in the same manner but there will be one or two present who have a keener appreciation of humorous situation than the others, and if they were to be changed the next minute they would laugh just the same.

The more profoundly solemn Joseph became during the performance of Richelieu, the more a few people—say small boys to be charitable—the gallery tittered. It annoyed Nelson and it annoyed hundreds of others, but all the same it must be confessed, that Mr. Yule as Joseph the monk, did look like one of Rabelais' unholy friars, and I'll bet he swore like one of them when he saw the hit he was making.

METRONOME.

Judging from the many complimentary things that have been said and written regarding "A Wise Member" it is evident that it is well worthy of unqualified praise on its own merits. We feel safe in predicting that breathing room will be at a premium, and the wise man will secure his seats for the entertainment in time. The play and company were an unequalled success last season, and are more than upholding their record during their second season. Hilliard Opera House one night, Saturday Sept. 6th.

"Such a Noise!"

The mother says to herself sometimes, "I can hardly endure it." Then a chill creeps over her as she thinks of the awful silence which falls upon the home when children are taken away, and she is glad her children are hardy of body and lusty of lungs.

When a child does not enjoy noisy sports and games there is something wrong, and that something will often be found to be a lack of nutrition adequate to the needs of youth and growth. The stomach is "weak," digestion is imperfect, and so the nourishment of the body is inadequate.

In such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works wonders. It changes puny, fretful children into healthy, happy girls and boys. The process by which this change is accomplished is strictly along the lines marked by Nature. All growth and strength come from food when it has been digested, converted into nutrition and assimilated. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to obtain without loss or waste the benefit of the nutrition provided in food. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

A Wonderful Thing.

"I have been thinking of writing to you for some time," writes Mrs. W. D. Benson of Weston, Robeson Co., N. C. "To let you know what a wonderful thing Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery did for my little boy. He was taken with indigestion when he was a year and a half old and he was under the doctor's treatment for five long years. We spent all we made for doctor's bills, and it did no good. He could eat only a little milk and crackers, and some times even this would make him sick. He could not sit up all day, and I gave up all hope of his ever getting any better. Three years ago I found one of your books, and on looking it over one day I noticed Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery recommended for indigestion. We bought some and gave it to our boy. He had been treated at Hood's by a good doctor and at Bennett's, Wile, S. C. and at Carrie and Lambert's and Maxton, and was only relieved for a short time. We gave him two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it cured him. He is well as can be and can eat anything that he wants and it does not hurt him. He has not been sick a day since and it has been three years since he took your medicine."

A Thankful Mother.

"I have felt it my duty for a long time," writes Mrs. Mollie Jones of Gap, Comanche Co., Texas, "to tell you of the wonderful cure effected by your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and Pleasant Pellets' in the case of our little boy, now nearly seven years old. When he was two months old he was taken with La Grippe, and it settled on his lungs and in his throat. His lungs enlarged, and when he was two years old we had the doctor operate on them. Then we had the doctor take his tonsils out and he made bad work of it. If he went in the wind he would be sick, and we tried everything we could hear of and consulted every physician we saw, but they did not know what to do. When he was nearly six years old (in October, 1898) he was worse than ever, and I could not rest for being so uneasy about him. He was our fourth boy (the other three were dead), and it seemed to me that if he died I just could not bear it. I would go to sleep crying and begging God to spare him. Well, I could see he was getting so much worse, he was as poor as he could be, and his kidneys had been troublesome all his life. I had read a book about Dr. Pierce's medicine, and I had bought a bottle of it. I had Ring softly, bells; life blooms from death to-day.

Your sons' requital and hearts of lonely graves In furrowed fields of battle far away.
That mutely say: "The sacrifice that saved." Then softly sing on this calm summer eve, Mid falling blooms, where fruits will soon appear:
Tell of the ceasing of war's bugle blast, And victories of peace, sublime and near.
Ring softly, bells; good comes through toil and tears:
The heritage we claim of Freedom's dawn.

vements should be given to the subject. Thousands ought to be picked up for the North-west where they much needed.

The Pope is stated to have issued a decree to the reigning houses of Europe stating that no more dispensations be granted to the Roman church marriages of blood relatives. Pope advises that princes of blood who belong to the Roman church avoid contract marriages outside the families in order that the degeneration and mental inferiority caused by consanguineous marriages of the may be remedied.

will prove interesting and coming to thousands of women to that almost all their troubles are due to a poor condition of the nervous system.

ills, irregularities and diseases of women, such as nervousness, anæmia, loss of memory, and suppressed periods, hysteria, bearing down pains, poor and feeble blood, neuralgia, general weakness and other troubles, can only be cured by a specially compounded line like Paine's Celery Compound.

Wonderful medicine of nature, with tens of thousands of women, carries its rich nutrient and vigour to the blood, nerves, issues, giving power and new life to the active and diseased organs. No medicine can so quickly banish the painful and obnoxious feminine ailments, and never devised can so truly keep the system, blood and bodily organs in a healthy condition to fulfil important duties.

Mrs. A. L. Brando, Ont., says: "I was a great sufferer from several of these ailments, in the left ovary. The attacks were so acute, I thought I would lose my reason. All doctors treated me, and I was sent to the hospital. I obtained relief from medical treatment. The said unless I had the ovary away I could not be cured. I decided to submit to the operation, I used Paine's Celery Compound, and I am thankful your valuable medicine. I feel like a new woman, and like all to know what your medicine has done for me."

A Thankful Mother.

"I have felt it my duty for a long time," writes Mrs. Mollie Jones of Cap. Comanche Co. Texas, to tell you of the wonderful cure effected by your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' in the case of our little boy, now nearly seven years old. When he was two months old he was taken with La Grippe, and it settled on his lungs and in his throat. His mother enlarged, and when he was two years old we had the doctor operate on them. When we had the doctor take his hands out he made bad work of it. If he went in the wind he would be sick, and we tried everything we could hear of and consulted every physician we saw, but they did not know what to do. When he was nearly six years old in October, 1881 he was worse than ever, and I could not rest for being so uneasy about him. He was our fourth boy (the other three were dead), and it seemed to me that if he died I just could not bear it. I would go to sleep crying and begging God to spare him. Well, I could see he was getting so much worse, he was just as poor as he could be, and his kidneys had been troublesome all his life. I had read a book about Dr. Pierce's medicine. It seemed to me that this was the very medicine we wanted, and I told my husband that if he would buy some of Dr. Pierce's medicine I felt almost sure it would help our boy. He sent and got some and we commenced with the 'Golden Medical Discovery' on Friday night, and with the 'Pellets' the next morning. We gave him your medicine three times a day, and by Sunday he was able to play, and in one month from the time he commenced taking it he had gained six pounds and his cough was all gone. He has not coughed any since, and he can take cold any more than the rest of us. He is as about like the rest of the children and plays in the cold and hot weather."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Ring softly, bella; a sacred Sabbath day.

From lofty turret and from temple tower.

Your notes herald the coming of that day.

When truth and grace shall wield imperial power.

When Justice with her even scales in hand.

Shall over the world extend her boundless sway.

While Mercy's wings outspread o'er every land.

Shall herald in the world's millennium day.

KNOWLEDGE OR CULTURE.

View of Prof. Goldwin Smith on the Object of Universities.

Mr. Goldwin Smith, writing in The London Daily News on the object of Universities, says:

Knowledge or culture, which of these is the proper object of the university? The two are not mutually exclusive. Culture of a certain kind goes with all high knowledge. Mental exercise, developing the faculties, goes with all acquisition of knowledge, indeed, with all worthy use of the mind. The two things which are mutually exclusive are purely scientific or mechanical knowledge and cultivation of the taste.

The original object of the university was knowledge. This was the object even of the university, if it is to be so called at Athens, where students took leisure and his son might not receive cultivation of the mind or of the taste, but a practical side of the knowledge was the object of those of which the staple was Scientific Philosophy, since it was then imagined that mental introspection was the key to objective truth still more plainly of universities like Padua or Bologna, whose staple was the Civil or Roman Law, then a most creative profession, or of Salerno, whose staple was Medicine. The Trivium and Quadrivium were a course of study in all departments of knowledge leading to the professional study as the end.

The statutes of Corpus Christi College, Oxford, founded by Bishop Fox, of the thirteenth century, comprised a classical education. But to a Renaissance spirit the ancient languages became founder the ancient languages would present themselves as the key to all the knowledge worth having.

The culture theory has a history, and rather a mournful history, in connection with the English universities. In the Middle Ages the colleges were all clerical, the Fellows being required to take orders. But in the Middle Ages a clerk was not

"Mr. Romig's Lecture. Large Audiences Heard it in Charleston and Portage la Prairie and Were Delighted."

Mr. Romig's lecture on Honolulu and vicinity, was an intellectual treat while his views are unsurpassed. From the Golden Gate of our own country he carried us to Honolulu, showing us the native huts, natives, and their customs, previous to the introduction of Christianity, leading us to a realization of the glorious powers of Christianity by his apt illustrations of the college, public buildings, etc., of Honolulu as it stands today. As these views were personally collected by Evangelist Romig during an eight weeks visit to Honolulu, his lecture on this subject cannot fail to interest an intelligent audience. Daily News, Charleston, S. C.

"One of the topics of conversation in town to-day is the lecture given at the Baptist church last evening by Evangelist J. A. L. Romig on 'Honolulu the Paradise of the Pacific.' The large Auditorium of the church was filled to the full capacity, and all listened with bated breath to catch the words of the speaker, as he gave a description of life and conditions on the island."—Graphic, Portage la Prairie, Man.

Conductor Dave Kay was severely injured last Wednesday by falling from a work train of which he was conductor.

Mr. Theo. Breidenbach returned yesterday from the Flint Lake mine where the carpenters are now engaged erecting the new mill.

Miss Jean Gunne and Miss Munroe, of Haverhill College, Toronto, will give an elocutionary entertainment in the Presbyterian church on Sept. 15th.

Mr. E. P. Murphy will take over the management of the News on Saturday night. The daily issue is to be abandoned and a semi-weekly established in its place.

Manager Cornyn, of the Nelson Company, left yesterday morning for Winnipeg to arrange for his troupe's appearance in that city. He will return tonight.

"A Wise Member," now in its second successful season, is guaranteed to give you many good, hearty laughs. To cure influenza, relieve gout and prove highly beneficial in cases of La Grippe. It is one of those plays that are harmlessly irresponsible, chock full of good human fun, and bright with young people and young faces. It is wholesome fun, because it makes you laugh without a tendency to hide your face behind your program or your fan. The people of the play are good, jolly folks that you will find around you every day in the week, if you are lucky in the selection of your neighbors and associates; they get into troubles of their own and the way they lie out of them makes you envy them their facility of invention. Don't fail to see it at the Hilliard Opera House, one night, Saturday Sept. 6th.
